

Flowers in the Dirt

How nice! The Blunt Junior Flower Arrangers Club is having its annual picnic by the old City Walls on Lane Avenue! There's lemonade and cake pops, Bobbity Bars and SugarCool.

But there's a problem.

They forgot to invite Peaches McCloud. That's why a donkey stampede is heading their way. Indigo's sisters have managed to hypnotise Alan, the Boss Donkey into following a remote control aeroplane which Root is controlling. Wherever Alan goes, all the other donkeys follow.

Indigo has been keeping an eye on Blunt from the top of the Tooth Brush Holder Factory. He's just spotted the huge donkey herd breaking out of the Donkey Sanctuary and heading into town past the cemetery. What's the best route to take if he's going to get to the picnic in time to warn the flower arrangers?
